Adrian Schrinner and the LNP's Brisbane Metro: selling out local jobs, long delays, costs blown out to $1.7 billion

Last week, we saw the culmination of 9 years of work on the Lord Mayor's 'Brisbane Metro'. The Lord Mayor said this project would revolutionise public transport in Brisbane. This project cost us $1.55 billion and we've found out the project is... a bus.

It's a slightly bigger bus on an existing route on an existing busway.

Nothing new for us on the Northside. We've been promised extra bus services, but that relies on extra funding from the State Government. So we'll wait and see brisbanelabor A slightly longer bus on an existing bus route falls well short of rivalling the Paris Metro...
